It has been established beyond doubt that the original publication of this article does not present the correct information on authorships, on exact location where the work was done and on the funding agencies to be acknowledged. The correct information has thus been published above and below and should be treated as definitive by the reader.

Acknowledgements The authors are grateful to two anonymous referees who provided comments on a previous version of this article. Scott Taylor evaluated the English language of the manuscript. The practical work was done at the Department of Aquatic Ecology, Netherlands Institute of Ecology, Nieuwersluis, the Netherlands, with a grant from NIOO-KNAW.
