NARCIS CLASSIFICATION

Classification codes of the scientific portal Narcis

www.narcis.nl

Introduction

The Narcis Classification is a framework of codes with which institutes and experts are classified and can be retrieved. The classification has two main classes. The A code gives an overview of fields of interest and the D code classifies on scientific disciplines. The classification also contains a C code. This code contains 6 interdisciplinary research fields. The Narcis Classification has been revised in the year 2009.

The Narcis Classification is used among others in the scientific portal Narcis, www.narcis.nl.
